SATURDAY, MARCH 10.

The following publication has been addressed to the inhabitants of the island of Cuba, by his excellency the governor-general.

Most faithful inhabitants of the Island of Cuba.

The insatiable and fatal ambition of the oppressor of mankind made us foresee that Spanish America would enter in the plan of his usurpations, as I indicated to you in my proclamation of the 12th of March last, and I ought now to inform you, that he has effectively begun to realize them by the same insidious means he practised in Europe.

I am positively informed that the intrusive Joseph Bonaparte, the faithful executor of his sanguinary and subversive decrees, has sent an emissary to the United States, accompanied by incendiary satellites, charged with spreading the fire of division and discord amongst us, the favorite weapon of the treacherous tyrant, which has obtained him laurels enamelled with robberies and innocent blood.

It is true, that after his impious and atrocious operations, and in consequence of the sublime loyalty and patriotism inseparable from the Spanish name, not being able to entertain the least hope of finding nor gaining partisans in these regions; but the resources of his infamous arts being incalculable, which a fatal experience has shewn us, it is to be presumed, he will take the oblique course of involving us in intestine dissensions by means of impositions, calumnies, and seductions, in order to become our co-operation in favor of the glorious national insurrection, to interrupt and diminish the advantages which the heroic English nation derives from our commerce and applies towards the expenses of the holy war, and by this order of things to prepare the subjugation of Spain, the conquest and desolation of England, and finally the dominion and slavery of the Americas. In the knowledge thereof we would be criminals of the most abandoned nature if, by considering his designs impracticable, we were to forget the necessary measures to apprehend the above mentioned satellites, stopping the fire in its origin and perhaps preventing it, only by taking anticipated and seasonable measures.

I flatter myself, that the chiefs, magistrates, and all classes of inhabitants, will endeavor to excel each other in watching and prosecuting them, that they may not be able to conceal themselves under any disguise; and in order to insure greater success, I order and command:

1st. That the governor of Cuba, the lieutenant and other justices, shall make known by proclamations, or in any other way, not to permit any person whatsoever to disembark in their district, who should come in a vessel proceeding from a foreign port, without his being first visited by the proper officer or person appointed to that effect, under the penalty of one thousand dollars, to the contravention thereof as well as the captain to be applied to the expenses of the war; and if it should be proved that any person is an agent of the French, he will incur the utmost rigor of the law.

2d. In the act of visiting they will examine minutely the manifest, roll d'équipage, passports of the crew and passengers, and endeavor to observe and apprehend whoever should come disguised.

3d. They will enquire the nature and object of the coming of the passengers, without permitting them to disembark, unless they give the necessary security answerable for their conduct.

4th. They will collect the letters in their possession, which they will deliver to the persons they are directed to, obliging them to shew that part which relates to the object of their arrival, to compare it with the verbal information of the bearer of said letters, respecting the motives of his coming.

5th. They will give me information of said passengers, their property, the object of their voyage, and the observations they may have made in the act of visiting the vessel, or afterwards.

6th. They will encharge the captains of vessels to give them daily advice of the existence of their crew, that in case any one should disappear, he may be taken up immediately; also taking care that all should return in the same vessel.

7th. As respects vessels proceeding from foreign ports, they will take care to examine the passports of the passengers, enquire the object of their coming, observe their conduct, and advise me thereof, as ordered in article 5th.

8th. They will endeavor to enforce, with great exactness, article 82 and 83 of the ordinance of police, wherein it is decreed, That every person who hires a house or room, or whosoever takes any boarders, shall immediately give the information thereof to the police officers.

9th. Finally, as it is but justice to reward generously and conformable to circumstances, those who should denounce and apprehend the aforesaid perfidious agents, and in order that a greater number of zealous patriots may participate in so meritorious an act, a subscription will be opened for shares at 10 dollars each, and the said gratification will accordingly be paid by the subscribers in proportion to their respective shares, having subscribed myself for one hundred of them. And that it may be made known publicly, this proclamation shall be published and circulated in the accustomed form.

The Marquis de SOMERVELLOS.
Havana, 5th Feb. 1810.

NOTE.—No Frenchman whatsoever will be admitted into the Island of Cuba, altho' he should produce documents proving his naturalization, either in America or in any other country.

BY THE LAST MAIL.

NEW-YORK, March 6.

VERY LATE FROM ENGLAND.

Last evening arrived at this port the British Packet Eliza, from Falmouth, with the December and January mails. The Packet sailed on the 15th of January, and a passenger has politely favored the editors of the Mercantile Advertiser with a file of London papers to the twelfth of January inclusive, from which we have copied the most interesting articles.

The paper of the twelfth states as probable, that the French decrees would very speedily be revoked.

We learn from the passengers in the Packet, that not the smallest apprehension was entertained that a war would ensue in consequence of the dismissal of Mr. Jackson.

Our London papers are mostly filled with the correspondence between our government and Mr. Jackson.

LONDON, December 27.
The liberty to import salt and colonial produce from England is said to be conceded to Sweden, in one of the articles of peace between that power and France.

December 29.
The flag of truce that sailed for Calais on Sunday, with Mayuz, the Austrian courier, and Mr. Powell, the secretary to the American minister, returned to Dover on Wednesday, with the latter gentleman, who was not allowed to land. This refusal it is said, was qualified by an assurance that he would be allowed to disembark and proceed to Paris, whenever he should present himself at that port [St. Maloes] through which communications between the respective ministers of the U. S. at the courts of London and Paris were generally made. After what has been said of America in the Expose, we are rather surprised to find so little disposition in the French government to accommodate the diplomacy of that country. What difference can it make to Bonaparte, through which of his ports, provided he tolerates it, Messrs. Pinkney and Armstrong correspond? This marked insult can hardly have arisen from mere displeasure at the breach of a capricious regulation. From the length of time that the flag of truce was on the other side, it is probable there was some communication by telegraph, or otherwise, between the commandant at Calais and his government respecting the admittance of Mr. Powell into the empire. The flag of truce brought over a report that Mr. Armstrong was about to return to America. This, if the rumor be well founded, would sufficiently account for the indignity with which Mr. Pinkney's secretary has been treated.

January 1.
It is said that the troops now embarking at Portsmouth, which were intended for Portugal, are to proceed to Halifax. Another embarkation, for the same destination, is immediately to take place at Cork.

Incorporation of Holland with France.

The threat denounced against Holland in the message to the French Senate, and the expose, is carried into effect. That country no longer forms one of the states of Europe.

The formal annexation of it to the French empire has been declared; and swarms of custom-house officers, supported by numerous troops, are on their way to give effect to the new organization to which it is condemned. Letters to the 23d inst. upon the authenticity of which we can implicitly rely, were yesterday received with this information. The intelligence was brought to Amsterdam by express from Paris.

Dordrecht, Dec. 21.
The French privateer Le Euret has captured and brought into Dunkirk the American vessel Pamerieu, of 320 tons, laden with linens and gin.

A letter from St. Petersburg, of the 23d ult. says, "On the 19th, the ice in the Neva became sufficiently firm to admit of persons walking on it in safety. There were 73 vessels locked in the ice at Cronstadt; sixteen of them were Americans."

January 8.
The long and very important letter, which we publish in this day's paper, from Mr. Smith to Mr. Pinkney, the American minister resident in England, closes the whole of the correspondence presented to congress in relation to Mr. Jackson's unhappy mission to America. The materials necessary for a full consideration of this important subject are still, however, incomplete. We want the correspondence between Mr. Erskine and our secretary for the foreign department.

Dunkirk, Dec. 14.
The America, of Philadelphia, from Varet, is sent into Dunkirk, laden with linen, &c.

A ship from Salem, and a galliot, from Baltimore, have both arrived at St. Sebastians.

Plymouth, Jan. 1.
Arrived, the ship Call-donia, from Norfolk, laden with tobacco, bound to Hamburgh, and ship Dryade, from America.

Rotterdam, Dec. 19.
The Spanish A. lianza, from Havana, is sent into Dordrecht, by the Grand Turk of Berg privateer.

January 9.
An immense force, it would seem, is proceeding to Spain. Exclusive of 15,000 conscripts that have been trained at Bayonne, veterans to thrice that amount are on their march for the peninsula.

The Russians are said to have been defeated near Silistria, and compelled to re-pass the Danube. The Turks were under the command of the Grand Vizier.

We find in these papers a decree of king Louis, issued at Paris on the 29th ult.—The object of which is the augmentation of the existing taxes; a proof that he has not yet done with the country.

The Princess Charlotte frigate, with the Lord Keith, Earl Spencer, and Monarch, homeward bound East-Indiamen, arrived on Sunday at Portsmouth. They bring the agreeable intelligence of the capture of the Isle of Bourbon.

January 10.
Mr. Oakley is about to return to America. We believe he leaves town this day in order to embark.

Accounts from Holland received yesterday state that it was hoped they would be able to avert the fate with which they were menaced, by the threat of annexation to France, the senate and legislative body were understood to have represented, through king Louis, their readiness to adopt and enforce any measures suggested by the French government for distressing this country. They also agreed that Holland should give every aid of which it was capable, in any way to the French finances. In this representation some of the principal commercial houses are said to have joined. It is possible the position may be accepted, but we doubt whether it will prevent the eventual incorporation with the French empire.

January 11.
The American frigate John Adams, arrived on Tuesday off Dover from New York; from whence she sailed on the 15th Dec. She has brought papers to that date inclusive; the contents of which, as might have been expected, are most important. The ground on which further communication with Mr. Jackson was refused, has been discussed in one of the houses of congress; and the conduct of their own government fully approved. The senate, on motion of Mr. Giles, came to a resolution, on the 8th Dec. declaring certain expressions used by Mr. Jackson in his correspondence with Mr. Smith, to be "highly indecorous and insolent." Even this was not considered sufficient; a bill, empowering the president "to send out of the country offending ministers," was proposed, and in progress through the same house. Should the house of representatives adopt the passions and irritations of the American government as cordially as the senate appears to have done, there is little doubt of the extraordinary bill passing; and of the president's having put it in force against the British minister; without even waiting for the formality of his recall, in compliance of the demand which Mr. Pinkney was instructed to make to our government. This resolution created no discussion in the senate; the mover was the only person who spoke on the occasion.

The annual report of the American finances was laid before congress on the 9th ult. It discloses some facts little adapted to inspire complete confidence in the system of policy, which the ruling party has imposed upon that country for these two years past. Like the old government of Europe, the Americans are making a beginning towards a national debt, exclusive of that contracted in establishing their independence. The expenses of the year 1809 are admitted to have exceeded the revenues to the amount of nearly 1,300,000 dollars. The deficit for the ensuing year is calculated at three millions, to provide against which, as well as to discharge that of the preceding year, loans are suggested. To defray the interest of these, an immediate and considerable increase of the existing duties is stated to be necessary; and it is at the same time thrown out, that in case of a further declaration, occasioned by a maritime war, it will, probably, be necessary to resort, either directly or indirectly, to internal taxation.

But the most important part of this document relates to the non-intercourse act. The inadequacy of this measure, to the object it had in view, is declared, and the alternative is suggested of reinstating it in its original vigor, (that is, to abolish the coasting trade, and prohibit exportation by land) or removing entirely all its restrictions, so far as they affect the commerce and navigation of America.

Valuable Property for Sale.

I will sell the PLANTATION known by the name of Mount Air, lying in a state of Virginia, immediately on the post road, about 9 miles from Alexandria. This farm contains upwards of seven hundred acres, the soil is well adapted for wheat, corn or tobacco—there are on the farm two houses, one of which is a commodious dwelling with a good kitchen, and the other is a two story building 32 feet square, shingled and weather boarded but not finished inside, it is situated immediately by the post road and is an excellent stand for a tavern. Mr. Edgar McCarty, of Cedar Grove, who resides near this property, will on application shew it to any person desirous of purchasing.

I will also sell that valuable property known by the name of McCarty's Island, in the Potomac river, about 20 miles above George-Town—this island contains upwards of three hundred acres, the soil is equal in quality to any land in the western country, and is surpassed by none for valuable timber for house and ship building, only about 30 acres are cleared. A further description is deemed unnecessary as it is presumed that any person wanting to purchase will view it. Mr. James Middleton, who lives near this island, will shew it on application. For the above described lands a great bargain will be sold on application to the subscriber residing in George Town.

SATURDAY, MARCH 10.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman at St. Barts. to his friend in Baltimore dated February 8th, 1810.

"The British have attacked and got possession of Point Petre and Basseterre, Guadalupe; and it will not be many days before the whole island will be in their possession, and also St. Martins.

Flour sells quick here at $13 cash; at Antigua and St. Kitts at 16 to 17; at Guadalupe $40. I presume these prices will augment; the British force is great, and will require great supplies of provisions."

A letter from Aalborg, (Denmark) dated Oct. 30, (received at New York) says:—"The prize courts in this country generally make foreigners pay the privateers for bringing them in, detaining them and spoiling their voyage. At most they never give the claimants more than 150 dollars for the longest detention: and of all the unfair proceedings I have ever seen, nothing in my opinion comes up to those practised here. They keep the captain confined, while they tamper with the crew; and every species of bribery and corruption is made use of by the privateersmen to get the crew to swear to something false, to try to invalidate the neutrality of the vessel; and they have destroyed the brig Washington's register.

"American vessels captured and bro't in here—brig Washington, Story, of Salem, waiting appeal; brig Mary-Ann, Martin of Providence, do.; brig —, Hodge, of Newburyport, do.; schr. David Gelston, Booth, of New-York, do.; ship Mary-Hall, of Newburyport, sailed by buying himself clear. Ship Hetty, Shaw, of Petersburg—cleared by paying 3000 rix dollars."

Extract of a letter, from a gentleman belonging to Boston, now at Malta, dated Nov. 18.

"I wrote you by captain Jov, of the brig Harmony, who sailed Nov. 12, with convoy as far as Gibraltar.

"A vessel arrived here this day in 40 days from America, and sailed again up the Archipelago.

"The ship Halcyon, of Boston, and brig Amphitrite, of Philadelphia, were left at Fiume 13 days since, by the three masted schr. Transit, of Philadelphia. The ship and brig were to sail for this place in three days. The Transit will take letters to Cadiz the first week. The ships Java and Weymouth, and brig Almira of Boston; and the Betsey, Sneed, of Philadelphia, are daily expected from Smyrna with convoy. The Java will go to Baton; the Betsey, S. to Philadelphia; the other two to England. The Caroline-Ann, Dingley, of Boston, arrived yesterday from Liverpool, and sailed to day for Smyrna in company with the ship Argo, Field, and brig Independence, Rogers, of Salem. The ship Bramin, Singleton, of Philadelphia, was taken, bound hence to Palermo, on the 6th instant, by a French privateer; the captain and crew left on board, retook her, and arrived at Palermo on the 16th. At that date there were, lately arrived from America, the brig Fairy, Nichols, of Newburyport, and schr. Elizabeth, Woodbury, of Beverly, beside Bonif, schr. Commerce, of New York, &c.

"The ship Apollo, of Baltimore, condemned here for not having a certificate of origin, on her passage from Tunis to Naples, has been sold for 2500 pounds sterl. All the Austrian vessels here have been sequestered, since the peace between Austria and France, they amount to nearly 100, and consist chiefly of fine ships and brigs of 250 to 300 tons. This conduct is condemned, as the English vessels in the Austrian port of Fiume, were not only suffered but advised to depart.

"I think I do not err in asserting there are 3000 vessels in this port. A large proportion are Greeks. They are hurrying away; for a rupture is apprehended between Turkey and England, when the former shall have made peace with the Russians, and an armistice is said already to be established."

"There have been between 90 to 100 American vessels in the Mediterranean above Malaga. Of 93 I have an account: 30 have gone, or are going home: 30 are undecided what to do: 19 have freights for Gibraltar, England, &c.; 9 are taken and condemned; 3 have gone to Naples, and two are under trial in Italy. Of the 9 captured and condemned, 2 belong to Salem; 1 to Boston, (the Arrow); 2 to New-York; 1 to Philadelphia, and 3 to Baltimore. Of the 93, 23 were from Boston; 20 from Philadelphia; 14 from Salem; 14 from Baltimore; 8 from New-York; 4 from —; 2 from Norfolk, and the other nine from Alexandria, Beverly, Marblehead, Chatham, Scarborough, &c.

November 25.

The ship America, Ropes, of Salem; and brig Elizabeth, Feetylplace, of Marblehead, arrived yesterday from Sicily.—The former will probably go to Constantinople; the latter is bound down the Straits for the West Indies, with the first convoy. The brig Patience, Wing, of Baltimore, bound to Gallipoli, was brought in a few days since, and will probably be condemned. Captain W. gives the following account of vessels there, viz. Brig Caroline, Drew, Boston; schooner Shadow, of Philadelphia; taken by French privateers, and their fate undecided; schooners Margaret and Hercules, of Salem, schooner Augusta, brig Sophia, and schooner Zephyr, of Baltimore, schooner Hamilton, of New-York; cargoes all sequestered, and their fate to be decided, when our situation with France shall be determined. Vessels allowed to load and sail, if their captains think best.

"The ship America, was boarded off this Island, and brought in (by the vessel which conveyed her from Sicily) on suspicion of having certificates of origin, or for continuity of voyage or something else; and after examination, was dismissed. I shall write you from Constantinople."

Congress of the United States.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Thursday, March 8.

[CONCLUDED.]

After a long debate on Mr. PIERCE'S amendment, the question was taken by yeas and noes, and carried. Yeas 55—noes 49; and the house adjourned.

FRIDAY, March 9.

Mr. Love from the committee on the affairs of the District of Columbia, reported a bill entitled "an act to amend the laws of the District of Columbia." Read twice and referred to a committee of the whole house on Friday next. This act relates to insolvent debtors in the courts of Alexandria, and the recovery of promissory notes and other law proceedings in said county.

An act to make public a road in the county of Washington, District of Columbia, was read a third time and passed.

On motion of Mr. Gholson, the house resolved itself into committee of the whole, Mr. DESHA in the chair, on the report of the select committee on the petition of Amy Darden. The report is favorable to the petitioner.

The committee rose and reported their agreement to the resolution. The house immediately took up the same and concurred in the report of the committee of the whole, and referred the resolution to a select committee to report a bill.

Committee of the whole, Mr. DESHA in the chair, on the report of the committee of commerce and manufactures on the petition of Tristram Hussey.—The report is in favor of the petitioner. The committee rose and reported their agreement to the resolution. The house immediately considered the report and concurred therein, and referred it to the committee of commerce and manufactures to report a bill.

Committee of the whole, Mr. DESHA in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims on the petition of Margaret Lapsley, praying compensation for certificates lost.

After a variety of reasons stated by the committee in favor of the claim, they conclude with a resolution unfavorable to the petitioner, which they say they are compelled to by the statute of limitation.

The committee negatived the resolution of the committee of claims.

Mr. Johnson then offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the prayer of the petitioner is reasonable and ought to be granted.

Mr. Macon was opposed to granting relief to this person unless the house would adopt a general resolution providing for the settlement of all claims of a similar nature, and indeed he did think it would be better to repeal the statute of limitation than to be passing special laws for the relief of individuals.

Mr. Lyon was in favor of legislating partially, but not for repealing the statute of limitation.

Mr. Smith was opposed to the resolution. Gentlemen were not aware of the consequences of adopting such resolutions; he did believe the treasury in its most flourishing state was unequal to meet all such claims.

Mr. Love was in favor of the resolution.

Mr. Minor advocated the resolution. He should be in favor of legislating generally if it were possible, but not believing that possible, he was disposed to seize on every opportunity to do justice to individuals. He was not to be frightened by the declaration that the claims against the U. States were enormous, if the U. S. were bankrupt let it be so said.

Mr. Potter said it had made many a man poor to pay his debts, but he never knew that was a reason why he should not do it. He was for paying this claim and all other just ones, as long as we had money to do so.

On the question of agreeing to the resolution, it was carried in the affirmative.—The committee then rose and reported their disagreement to the resolution of the committee of claims and the adoption of another resolution of contrary import on the same subject. The house took up that part of the report disagreeing to the resolution and concurred therein, and on the question of agreeing to the resolution reported by the committee of the whole in favor of the petition, it was taken by yeas and noes, and was yeas 64, noes 56. The report and resolution was then referred to the committee of claims to report a bill.

Committee of the whole, Mr. DESHA in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims on the petition of Peter Landais.—The report is unfavorable to the prayer of the petitioner. The committee of the whole house concurred in the report of the committee of claims, rose and reported their agreement to the resolution, and the house took up the report and concurred in the same.

The house then took up the bill from the further consideration of which the committee of the whole was yesterday discharged, for amending the act establishing the Washington and Alexandria turnpike company. It was ordered to be engrossed and read a third time on Monday next.

In committee of the whole house, Mr. PITKIN in the chair, on the report of the committee of claims on the petition of John Thompson, a revolutionary officer, for compensation, for services rendered—the committee of claims state that his claim is a just one, but it is barred by the statute of limitation, therefore are compelled to report unfavorable. The report of the committee of claims was negatived and reported to the house—the house concurred.—Mr. Gholson offered the following resolution: Resolved, That the prayer of John Thompson is reasonable and ought to be granted. This resolution was carried, and a committee appointed to bring in a bill. Adjourned till Monday.

A NOVEL.

By GEORGE WATTERSTON, Esq.

OF WASHINGTON CITY,

Author of the Lawyer and Child of Feeling.

The celebrity of this author's "LAWYER," and "CHILD OF FEELING" in duced the publishers to engage in this work, and without detracting from the merits of the former, feel themselves justified in stating that his GLENCARN is superior to either. It is submitted without further recommendation, with a wish, that the American reviewers may give further encouragement to this young gentleman's endeavors to entertain instruct and moralize his fellow citizens, in a way seemingly well calculated to attract their attention.

Finkerton's Collection of Voyages and Travels.

Forming a complete History of the Origin and Progress of Discovery by Sea and Land, from the most authentic Sources.

THE first number of this valuable Work is just come to hand and is ready for inspection at the store of the subscribers, in King-street, and with Mr. Triplett, at the coffee-house.

Fully aware of the impositions that have been practised upon the public by strangers soliciting subscriptions from distant places; the Editors invite their examination of a Work perhaps the most useful, entertaining as well as extensive in its kind that has ever been undertaken in any country. And they flatter themselves that the American will by no means shrink from a comparison with the London edition, tho' offered at six dollars per Vol. less.

This number may be considered as a fair specimen of the execution of the work, and will be left a short time for examination before the 3d number is put to press. After this the subscription will be raised to $2.25 each number; and but a few more copies printed than are sufficient to supply the subscribers, that the early patrons of this valuable Work may have a decided advantage—subsequent applications may therefore come too late.

It is also the intention of the Editor to annex to the last number a complete list of names of the subscribers as the patrons and encouragers of useful knowledge, the arts and literature of the United States.

Subscriptions are received by the subscriber.
